Your RRSP + Spousal RRSP Tracker Is Ready.

Income splitting · 3-year attribution rule monitor · Line 20800 deduction · all 13 provinces and territories

A spousal RRSP is one of the most useful income-splitting tools for Canadian couples. The higher earner contributes, using their own RRSP room, to an RRSP owned by the lower-earning spouse. In retirement, income is split more evenly between two tax returns, so less of it is taxed at a high rate. The Attribution Tracker watches the 3-year rule for you so a withdrawal is never taxed back to the contributor by surprise.

GET STARTED: 6 STEPS

1. Make Your Own Copy
   Click the link above, then click "Make a copy." Rename it to "RRSP + Spousal RRSP Tracker 2026 — [Your Names]" and save it to your Google Drive. Always work from YOUR copy.

2. Clear the Sample Data
   Open the Transaction Log, click cell A4, press Ctrl+Shift+End (Windows) or Cmd+Shift+End (Mac), then press the Delete key only. Never right-click → Delete rows. The Clear Sample Data Guide PDF walks you through it.

3. Update Settings & Goals
   Fill in every amber cell: Active Year (B4) and Province (B5); the contributor's name, income, RRSP room and unused room (B8–B11); the annuitant's name, income and own RRSP room (B19–B21); your target retirement year (B31) and combined RRSP target (B32).

4. Enter YOUR RRSP Transactions
   In the Transaction Log, set Account = RRSP and add your Contribution, then Buy entries. Your RRSP Portfolio (navy) fills in automatically with live prices and ACB.

5. Enter Spousal RRSP Transactions
   Set Account = Spousal RRSP. These contributions use YOUR (the contributor's) RRSP room. The Spousal RRSP Portfolio (purple) fills in automatically, and each contribution is logged in the Attribution Tracker.

6. Check the Attribution Tracker
   ALWAYS open the Attribution Tracker before planning any spousal RRSP withdrawal. The Status column shows which years are SAFE and which are AT RISK, with the exact date each year becomes safe.
